PAST SPONSORS

"The RESI team was terrific. The goal was to expand our relationship with local startups and investors... RESI Boston was the right event to engage in this vibrant life science ecosystem. Working up to the event was a productive and efficient process... The RESI team was super professional and supportive and knew what we wanted to accomplish. They asked us the right questions around indications, technologies, etc. We were also super impressed with the company database."

Jim MacKrell, PhD, Associate Vice President and Head of Lilly Ventures, Eli Lilly and Company

Host a 50-Minute Interactive Session at RESI (Workshop)

$4,995

(Free for Title & Gold)

Showcase your expertise to 100+ qualified decision-makers in the life sciences sector. This unique sponsorship opportunity allows you to engage directly with your target audience, highlight the value of your professional services, and build lasting credibility. The interactive format fosters meaningful discussion, strengthens relationships, and drives high-quality leads—creating impact that extends well beyond the conference.

Sponsor the RESI Investor Panel Track

$1,495

Sponsoring the RESI Investor Panel Track offers exceptional branding and engagement opportunities. Sponsors gain prominent visibility through dedicated signage at panel sessions and enhanced recognition in the RESI program guide. In addition, sponsors have the exclusive opportunity to moderate an investor panel of their choice, enabling direct interaction with investors and thought leaders. Your logo will be featured on all session materials, reinforcing your brand presence throughout the event.

Additional Full Page (Limited 1): $995

A page ad in the RESI Conference program guide provides sponsors with significant strategic advantages. It boosts brand visibility among a targeted life sciences audience, enhancing lead generation and giving sponsors a competitive edge over non-advertising rivals. The ad also serves as a networking tool with potential clients and partners interested in the life sciences. Additionally, the long-term exposure from event booklets—often retained by attendees—extends the ad's benefits well beyond the conference.
